

Appendix A – Web Resources
Susan Griffin, “On Not Knowing Any Better”
Teaching Transatlanticism

Context from Professor Griffin:

I often begin an upper-level undergraduate or graduate class by distributing a list of research web resources and assigning each student one site to describe and evaluate for her classmates. This is one version of such a list: some of these websites are devoted to American literature and culture, some to British, and some are transatlantic.
